Executive Summary

The Ghana College of Physicians and Surgeons is a public institution that was established in 2003 to provide post-graduate medical training in medicine, surgery and related disciplines. As of January 2017, the College had trained Eight hundred and five (805) Specialists and fifty five (55) Consultant-eligible Senior Specialists from Ghana and surrounding West African countries. The College has decided to pursue a vision that will see it become one of the premier post-graduate medical colleges in Africa and beyond.

To accomplish the vision of being the premier post-graduate training college in Africa and beyond, the College has created a strategic intent in the form of a vision statement, a mission statement and a statement of values and has elected to follow the strategies derived and outlined in this strategic plan document.

The bulk of the content for this strategic plan was collated during a planning session held at Ada in the Greater Accra Region of Ghana, between the dates of 14 to 16 December 2016. The workshop participants represented a good cross section of stakeholders ranging from GCPS governing council members, government representatives, senior management of the College, middle level staff of the College and some residents of the College.

The structure of this strategic plan is based on a three-level hierarchical pyramid. At the top of the pyramid sits the strategic priorities. These five key strategic priorities must be accomplished in order to realize the vision of being the premier post-graduate training institute in Ghana and beyond. Multiple Strategic Objectives which occupy the middle of the pyramid were derived for each of the strategic priorities which indicates the objectives to be met to accomplish the priorities. For each of the Strategic Objectives, specific activities which when completed will lead to outcomes that will indicate accomplishment of the objectives are provided. These specific activities occupy the bottom of the pyramid.

These activities are intended to be tracked under a Monitoring and Evaluation (M&E) planning and tracking system which is to be derived from the strategic plan. The activities are subject to change as the environment within which the College operates also changes. Given the ten-year period of the strategic plan, it is expected that there will be major changes to the environment within which the College operates.

STRATEGIC PLAN FOR GHANA COLLEGE OF PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS.

CHAPTER 1 INTRODUCTION

The Strategic Plan has been developed to provide direction and focus for the Ghana College of Physicians and Surgeons (GCPS), for the next ten (10) years beginning in the year 2018 and ending in the year 2027. The strategic plan is intended to provide direction and enhance efficiency in the pursuit of the College's priorities and objectives and in line with their mandate which was spelt out when the College was founded in 2003.

The strategic plan was developed by Dr Victor Osei of A4 Leadership Consult and a team of consultants beginning with a strategy development workshop held in Ada, Greater Accra Region in December 2016. The workshop was attended by members of the governing council, senior officers of GCPS, teaching faculty from GCPS, residents from GCPS and government officials.

A participatory approach was adopted during the workshop to enhance the quality of the output and ownership of the process. Plenary presentations were followed by participants working in groups to contribute to various chapters of the Strategic Plan. Every effort was made to ensure that each attendee had the opportunity to contribute when necessary.

The lead consultant interviewed several employees and residents of the College prior to the workshop session in Ada. These interviews provided key insights into the organization from the different perspectives of the interviewees. The main and common issue of concern gleaned from these pre-workshop interviews of employees and residents was the issue of inadequate funding for the College.

A detailed account of the workshop methodology and other pertinent information including list of attendees and schedule of activities was submitted as a workshop report to GCPS in January 2017.

Organisational Background and Profile

The Ghana College of Physicians and Surgeons (The College) was established by Act 635 of 2003 and revised by Act 833 of 2011. The comprehensive content of the Act 833 clearly spells out the mandates of the College which are to:

- Promote specialist education in Medicine, Surgery and related disciplines

- Promote continuous professional development in medicine, surgery and related disciplines
- Promote postgraduate medical education and research in medicine, surgery and related disciplines and
- Contribute to the formulation of policies on sound health and public health generally.

In addition to the mandates spelt out above, the Act mentions functions that the organization must perform to achieve its mandate, and these are:

- Organizes and supervises specialist training, promote Continuous Professional Development and support postgraduate research in medicine, surgery and related disciplines
- Conducts specialist examinations in medicine, surgery and related disciplines
- Publishes journals and pamphlets
- Awards diplomas and certificates on completion of specialist training and confers professional distinctions
- Fosters cooperation with other institutions with similar objectives
- Initiates and participates in actions and discussions aimed at sound health and formulation of public policies on health and
- Performs any other functions that are ancillary to the objects of the College

Organisational Structure

Act 833 also spells out the composition of a governing council which is identified as the apex decision making body of the College and provides a list of their responsibilities. The Council was assigned the following responsibilities in Act 833:

- Mobilization, control and supervision of the finances and estates of the College;
- Admission of Fellows and Members of the College; and
- Recommendation of a member in good standing to be admitted as a Fellow.

The composition of the Council comprises:

- The Chairperson;
- The President of the College;
- The Rector of the College;
- Two Vice Presidents of the College;

And one representative each of:

- The Ministry of Health not below the rank of Director;
- The Deans of Medical and Dental Schools;
- The Medical and Dental Professions;
- Chief Executives of Teaching Hospitals;
- The Medical and Dental Council;
- A representative of the Attorney-General not below the level of Principal State Attorney;

- A Resident elected by Residents; and
- One eminent person nominated by the President of the Republic.

Act 833 stipulates the need to form an Academic Board with a specified membership and responsibilities. At the time the College was established, two divisions were formed with authorization granted to the council to form more divisions on the advice of the Academic Board. The two existing divisions of the College are the Division of Physicians and the Division of Surgeons each of which has a Vice Rector and their respective faculties or medical specialist groupings.

The full organization structure is depicted in the organogram attached as Appendix 1.

Workshop Output

A key output from the strategic plan workshop was the list of The Strategic Priorities for the GCPS Strategic Plan. The items on the list were defined at the workshop held in December 2016 using several methodologies including brainstorming and multi-voting processes.

These priorities identify the top-level issues that must be addressed so that the organizational leadership can move the organization from where it is today to where the leadership wants the organization to be in the future. The Strategic Priorities represent a change in state from the present to a more desirable state which will enable the organization to realize its vision.

The present and the desired future states of GCPS are depicted in Figure 2 below.

The Strategic Objectives represent broad goals that need to be accomplished to realize the linked strategic priority. It is generally the case that more than one Strategic Objective will be linked to each Strategic Priority. Figure 3 shows the hierarchical linkage between the strategic priorities and the strategic objectives and the resulting activities.

Activities are the trackable actions the implementation team and other GCPS staff will take to produce outputs, some of which may be tangible and measurable and others that may not be directly measurable. The activities will have to be translated into SMART goals through the process of creating the Monitoring and Evaluation plan so that they can be measured and tracked. Some baseline measurements will have to be taken so that it can be discerned when change has occurred and in what direction it has occurred as well as the magnitude of the change. Targets will also have to be set for the measurable activities for each measuring period within the implementation period of the next ten years.

The Monitoring and Evaluation plan will be attached to this plan as Appendix 2.

The acronym SMART stands for: Specific, Measurable, Attainable, Relevant and Time Bound.

CHAPTER 2

THE STRATEGIC INTENT

This chapter states and provides brief discussions of the Vision, Mission and Values of Ghana College of Physicians and Surgeons which underlie the development of the Strategic Plan. The strategic plan must be in alignment with the vision, mission and values which together form the strategic intent of the organization. To develop beyond the present state of the organization, the Strategic Intent, especially the vision must stretch the organization to reach higher than its present capabilities. It should cause the organization's leadership to be creative in the acquisition and use of organizational resources.

Direction and Results

The strategic direction and results outlined in this document follow from the Ghana College of Physicians and Surgeons' understanding of their mandate as contained in Act 635 of 2003 and Amended with Act 833 of 2011. The direction and results were drafted while being cognisant of the challenges and opportunities that will be faced by the College as it attempts to realize its vision developed during the strategic planning session and stated below.

The ten-year period of this strategic plan will require close monitoring of the College and its environment, the College's performance and how well it fits in its changing environment and the College's performance towards the attainment of the set priorities and objectives contained in this plan. The ten-year period will also provide an opportunity for the College, its residents, fellows and employees to internalize the organization's strategic intent and to live its values in the workplace and in their interactions with stakeholders.

Vision:

This vision statement identifies where the College would like to be in ten years or sooner. It forms one part of the strategic intent alongside the mission statement and values of the organization which were all derived during the strategy planning workshop.

"The premier Postgraduate Medical College in Africa and beyond"

The vision statement can be used by the College leadership to rally the employees of the College, the residents and other stakeholders as the desired future direction and destination for the College.

Mission:

The mission statement explains what the College exists to accomplish and is in a way, a brief summary of the mandate granted under Act 833 of 2011. The mission statement is congruent with the College's motto of "Pro Vita Scientia – Knowledge to save lives"

"To continuously enhance health care delivery through ethical and technology leveraged training to produce highly skilled specialist doctors who are committed to life-long learning; promotion of research and, health policy development and advocacy to meet the healthcare needs of Ghana and the sub-region."

Values

The College's core values were derived during the strategy planning session and expressed as value statements. The values reflect the deeply held beliefs of the organization's members and Board members that will enable the organization to accomplish its vision and mission.

Integrity – We deliver on our promises to our stakeholders.

Collaboration – We work closely and seamlessly with our partner training institutions and other affiliated institutions.

Professionalism – we are professional in all our dealings with stakeholders.

Excellence – we are committed to working to the highest standards possible.

Evidence based decision making – our decisions are informed by the best available evidence.

Innovative – We continuously strive to improve our methods and processes.

Broad Objective:

The broad objective of the Ghana College of Physicians and Surgeons is synonymous with the organization's vision statement which is to be the premier post-graduate medical training institute in Africa and beyond.

Founding Objectives:

While working towards accomplishing its broad objective stated above, GCPS must always ensure that it is also meeting its founding objectives which are:

- a. Promote specialist education in medicine, surgery and related disciplines.
- b. Promote continuous professional development in medicine, surgery and related disciplines.
- c. Promote postgraduate medical education and research in medicine, surgery and related disciplines; and
- d. Contribute to the formulation of policies on sound health and public health generally.

Organizational Structure and Capability

The organizational structure was reviewed and determined to be capable of supporting the College as it strives to accomplish its vision and mission. However, it was recommended that although the Quality Assurance role exists as part of the functions of the Academic Affairs Manager of the College, it could be a more effective position as a senior level position with responsibility for monitoring the methods and processes used by the training facilities around the country, such as the teaching hospitals.

The recommended Quality Assurance role will be a proactive role that ensures that methods and processes agreed to between the College and training facilities are adhered to at all sites where training occurs. The role will ensure a consistency of training quality once the roles and responsibilities of GCPS and the training sites are clearly defined and agreed to by all stakeholders.

Table 2- Summary of SWOT Analysis

DISCUSSION OF SWOT

Strengths - GCPS has many areas of strength which should allow the organization to accomplish its mission and mandate. The enabling comprehensive legal framework that was used to create GCPS is one area of strength that should help the College tremendously in pursuing its objectives. The legal framework was promulgated through Act 635 of 2003 and later amended by Act 833 of 2011.

The legal framework gives responsibility solely to the College for post-graduate specialist training of physicians and dentists in Ghana. The legal framework clearly provides directions on the functions and structure of the organization as well as the College's relationship with other institutions.

The College enjoys a very good reputation in the West African sub-region. This good reputation should enable the College to attract physician trainees from other countries in the sub-region even though there are four other colleges operating in the sub-region, three in Nigeria and one in Liberia.

Another area of key strength for GCPS is its relevance to national development. A healthy nation has been said to be more conducive to the implementation of development agendas. The development of a healthy population requires the availability and services of specialist physicians trained to handle more complex health issues or cases. Prior to the creation of GCPS, Ghana had a brain-drain problem where physicians sent abroad for specialist training stayed abroad to work after completion of their training. Training specialists in Ghana has enabled the nation to retain higher numbers of its trained physicians who undergo training in Ghana and West Africa.

Weaknesses – Several weaknesses were identified which need to be addressed or avoided if the College is to accomplish its mandate. GCPS has not been very good at stating its case to policymakers in order to obtain some of the necessary resources due the College.

Part of the College's mandate as stipulated in the enabling Act is to advise the government on healthcare policy. This is an area where the College needs to become more active and influential. This will earn the College some recognition and goodwill among decision makers and the general population.

Funding for the organization is an area of weakness and further discussed in detail as a threat to the long-term well-being of GCPS. The College has three main sources of funding which are: government budget allocations, fees paid by residents and fellows and internally generated funds. The College very often has difficulty collecting moneys owed to it, usually from organizations that sponsor residents for training, including some of the teaching hospitals. Funding sources need to be clarified and assured with stakeholders and payment schedules must be established and agreed upon for the College to move forward.

Opportunities: There are many opportunities available for GCPS to take advantage of to realize its vision to become the premiere post-graduate training institute for specialist physicians in the sub-region. Firstly, healthcare is recognized universally as a necessary condition for national development; and secondly national development is a highly desirable objective for many individuals, organizations and governments. This linkage between healthcare which can be enhanced through the development of specialists and the attainment of national development makes fulfilment of the needs of GCPS an easier sell than the demands of other institutions that may not have the same direct linkage to national development.

Another opportunity for GCPS is that, the College has a large pool of candidate physicians for training available in the West African sub-region. GCPS is one of only four colleges recognized in the region for delivering postgraduate specialist physician and surgeon training; one is the National Post-Graduate Medical College of Nigeria located in Lagos, Nigeria. The others are the West African College of Surgeons and the West Africa College of Physicians, both located in Nigeria, and the Liberia College of Physicians and Surgeons located in Monrovia.

GCPS currently lacks expertise to train in certain specialty areas, however it has been suggested that an opportunity lay in the possibility of establishing partnerships with other organizations outside Ghana who could deliver the needed training at the requisite levels in specialty areas where GCPS is currently lacking the expertise.

The College enjoys a good reputation which can be exploited when dealing with the public, other institutions and the government. GCPS should look to exploit this opportunity to gain more recognition and resources going forward.

Threats – The lack of adequate support from government and other agencies poses a major threat to GCPS in trying to execute its mandate and to develop into the premier post-graduate training institute for physicians in Africa and beyond. Some residents who began training had to abandon the training due to a lack of sponsorship from the MOH or their originating organizations.

Another threat facing the organization is the lack of clearly defined roles and responsibilities, and limited collaboration with stakeholders. A good example of this is the College's relationship with the training institutions, specifically the teaching hospitals. The teaching hospitals pay to enrol residents in the post-graduate training program even though the residents go back to the teaching hospitals for the actual training. Some of the teaching hospitals are not happy with this arrangement and therefore some clarification of roles and responsibilities is required in the relationship.

Another major threat facing GCPS is the emergence of other colleges offering post-graduate training for physicians in Ghana and the West African region. The Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of the United Kingdom; and the Australia College of Physicians and Surgeons are two examples of foreign colleges that are competing for post-graduate medical training in Ghana. These colleges are major threats since they offer credentials that may be seen to be more widely recognizable and acceptable worldwide.

CHAPTER 4

STRATEGIC PRIORITIES AND OBJECTIVES

Five strategic priorities were established for GCPS. These strategic priorities must be accomplished to move the organization from where it is today to where the leadership wants to position it in the future. Each of the strategic priorities is supported by several strategic objectives. Table 3 below shows the distribution of the strategic objectives under the five strategic priorities.

STRATEGIC PRIORITIES, STRATEGIC OBJECTIVES AND KEY ACTIVITIES

STRATEGIC PRIORITY 1 – WORLD CLASS TEACHING AND LEARNING EXPERIENCE

GCPS has a vision to become the premier post-graduate training institute in Africa and beyond. This aspiration will require the organization to improve in many areas of its operations and to also adopt among other things a culture of continuous improvement.

While the College has many areas of strength, it also has some areas of weaknesses which must be improved while the environment within which it operates, keeps changing. Governments and their policies, technology, medical knowledge and the society are all areas of change in the organization's operating environment.

Feedback from teachers and students can produce many ideas for improvement in the teaching and learning environment as well as in many other areas. Seeking feedback from residents can also be a means to promote resident engagement with the College and its activities.

Advances in technology have made what was once considered impossible, possible today. While GCPS may lack experts in Ghana to teach certain specialized subjects or topics, advances in technology have made it possible to engage the services of any instructor from anywhere around the world with internet accessibility. Lectures, video demonstrations and even seminars can now be attended from remote locations using technologies such as podcasting and video conferencing. GCPS must explore and adopt these modern technologies where appropriate to bring new knowledge and the best trainers from around the world to its residents.

STRATEGIC PRIORITY 2 – IMPROVED RELATIONS WITH TRAINING PARTNERS AND KEY STAKEHOLDERS

Although the Act establishing the Ghana College of Physicians and Surgeons clearly assigns post-graduate training of Physicians to the College, the actual mechanism of implementing this mandate has not been translated into an agreement between the GCPS and the training institutions. It is essential to ensure that roles and responsibilities are clearly defined for all organizations directly involved in the training process and that all component institutions of the training machinery are moving in unison at all times towards the fulfilment of the GCPS mandate under Act 635 of 2003 and later revised by Act 833 of 2011.

Since training of specialist physicians occurs at different hospitals around the country, GCPS must ensure uniformity of training methods and content to the greatest extent possible to assure program and training consistency. GCPS has taken some steps in this direction by providing curricula that must be covered for each discipline. GCPS must also perform a quality assurance function which will oversee training at all the sites where training occurs. The quality assurance function will ensure consistency of training content, methods and procedures.

The QA function will require that detailed and auditable processes be developed and implemented for the training. These processes will be used at all the training sites. Responsibility for auditing adherence to the training content and processes will fall to the QA function.

STRATEGIC OBJECTIVE 2.1

ESTABLISH ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES BETWEEN GCPS AND TRAINING INSTITUTIONS.

Key Activities	Performance Indicators
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>MOU between GCPS and Training Institutions.</li> <li>MOU signed by all training institutions.</li> <li>Set up training QA function at GCPS.</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>MOU developed and signed with all training institutions.</li> <li>QA function established and staffed.</li> </ul>

STRATEGIC OBJECTIVE 2.2

PROVIDE REGULAR UPDATES TO KEY STAKEHOLDERS

Key Activities	Performance Indicators
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Set up regular status update meetings with MOH</li> <li>Set up regular status update meetings with GHS</li> <li>Set up regular status update meetings with Teaching Hospitals and other training centres</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Regular meeting with MOH established.</li> <li>Regular meeting with GHS established.</li> <li>Regular meetings with teaching hospitals established and other training centres.</li> </ul>

STRATEGIC PRIORITY 3 – ADVOCACY ON HEALTHCARE ISSUES OF NATIONAL INTEREST

GCPS is not well known among the general Ghanaian population despite all the decent work the College does in developing specialist physicians locally. High visibility on important health issues that people can directly relate to will enhance the College's profile and earn a lot of goodwill for the College. The accumulated goodwill will help GCPS when they seek the necessary support from the government. This is especially true when competing against other institutions for government funding and other resources. High visibility on health matters will also prove beneficial in fundraising activities to benefit the College.

Healthy populations are more productive and increased productivity can lead to accelerated national development. The link between healthy populations and national development is one that GCPS can exploit to obtain more and timely support from government and other funders.

STRATEGIC OBJECTIVE 3.1

LEADERSHIP ON ADVOCACY FOR MEDICAL MANPOWER NEEDS OF GHANA.

Key Activities	Performance Indicators
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Liaise with government in formulating health policies for Ghana.</li> <li>• Assume a leadership role in research on healthcare needs of Ghana.</li> <li>• Lead discussions on topical issues such as Meningitis, Ebola etc.</li> <li>• GCPS Residents, Members and Fellows to participate in different forums where healthcare needs of the nation are discussed. (TV, Print and Community).</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• System for contributing to health policy formulation established.</li> <li>• Healthcare needs reports/ publications should be a consideration in MOH yearly budget discussions.</li> <li>• GCPS is mentioned when discussion in print, radio or television is about healthcare needs of Ghana and the sub-region.</li> <li>• Yearly reports on college participation in different fora</li> </ul>

STRATEGIC OBJECTIVE 3.2

TRAINING ALIGNED TO NATIONAL (AND REGIONAL NEEDS)

Key Activities	Performance Indicators
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Conduct research to determine main contributions to morbidity and mortality of Ghanaians.</li> <li>• Contribute to determination of staffing norms and medical specialist manpower gaps in Ghana.</li> <li>• Ensure the needs are addressed in the Residents' training curricula.</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Research data available.</li> <li>• Reviewed and revised curriculum.</li> <li>• Yearly report on morbidity and mortality available and disseminated.</li> <li>• Reports of engagements available</li> </ul>

STRATEGIC PRIORITY 4 – IMPROVED FINANCIAL POSITION OF THE COLLEGE

The Strategy planning session identified inadequate budgetary support from the government as one of the key challenges facing the College. There is a perception among some key stakeholders including the Ministry of Health that the College is financially self-sustaining. This erroneous perception has affected the flow of needed funds to the College. This restricted funding has affected the College's ability to fulfil its mandate and its ability to accomplish its vision of becoming a premier post-graduate physician training organization. The inadequate funding has limited the kinds of training programs that can be provided to Residents and limits the ability of some residents to stay and complete their training programs after enrolment.

One of the key reasons for establishing the College was the brain drain that resulted from physicians who were sent abroad for specialist or post-graduate training and did not return on completion of the training. This was seen as a significant financial as well as resource drain on the nation. The other key reason for establishing GCPS was the cost of training abroad which was very high compared to training locally. These two principal reasons for establishing the College provide indisputable leverage for negotiations with the government to seek uninterrupted flow of adequate funding.

Two challenges identified for the College when approaching the government for additional funding will be to prove the College's role in stemming the brain drain and the College's ability to provide training comparable to that which can be obtained from any other reputable training institution.

The College has the opportunity to seek additional funding from sources besides the government. These potential sources of funding include private or corporate contributions to the endowment fund and sponsorship of Residents by individuals or the corporate world.

Chapter 5

IMPLEMENTATION PLAN

INTRODUCTION

A key element for the successful implementation of any Strategic Plan is the availability of a robust Monitoring and Evaluation system. Considering the above, various institutional arrangements must be put in place to ensure the collection, collation and coordination of information for the Monitoring and Evaluation of the Strategic Plan.

The various milestones, targets, baseline measurements and other indications coupled with the implementation plan will be the Monitoring and Evaluation benchmarks for both strategic and operational monitoring.

The M & E process for implementing this Strategic Plan will require the development of reporting templates to facilitate the collation and reporting of information required to track performance to plan.

PRELIMINARY ACTIVITIES

For the strategic plan implementation to work, there must be employees' buy-in since the employees are going to be the ones performing most of the implementation activities. The following activities should therefore be undertaken to obtain institutional buy in and commitment:

- Print and distribute copies of the Strategic Plan
- Organize durbars for all employees
- Engage in on-going consultation with all key stakeholders
- Create and sustain awareness that some changes/activities will require Change Management Expertise.

MONITORING PROCESSES

The following may be used as a means of high level monitoring and evaluation of the implementation of activities of the Strategic Plan:

- Quarterly Reviews – These evaluations are to be conducted by management.
- Mid-year Reviews – These are evaluations to be undertaken by Sectional heads on activities relating to their sections.
- Annual Reviews – These evaluations are to be conducted by the strategic leaders of the organization.
- Targeted Reviews - These are evaluations to be undertaken by Section Heads/ Consultants on certain specific activities contained in the strategic plan. It may only be undertaken with approval from management.

- Operational Monitoring – This involves periodic monitoring of on-going programmes.

INSTITUTIONAL STRUCTURES

There must be institutional structures for managing the Strategic Plan, some are discussed below:

Management Oversight committee to receive Reports from ongoing Monitoring – responsible for approval of strategic plan for implementation, drafting of policy, provision of direction to the organization and approval of decisions and activities for funding. Members may include the top-level leaders of the organization.

Operational/Technical Committee – responsible for day to day implementation, dealing with emerging operational challenges. Members may include mid-level leaders and technical experts.

Task Managers/Owners – assigned specific task in the plan. This may be linked to staff performance appraisals to ensure commitment and performance.
